The spectacular new SUNRISE

The superb new Sunrise, like all VW Devons, is built to last. In fact it's tough enough to go on a safari. But for most of the year the Sunrise will double as a car, so it's reassuring to know that it drives like one too. Light steering and independent coil spring suspension make for smooth, easy driving.

Inside there's enough room for two adults and three children to travel in comfort. The rear double seat faces forward and easily converts to a double bed, and underneath it there's bags of room for storage. The single seat, under which a porta-potti can be stored, faces the rear. Remove the backrest and it becomes another dining seat.

The elevating roof provides sleeping room for two more people. So you can sleep four in complete comfort. Gas-filled struts make the roof easy to open and shut. A roof vent ensures a fresh air supply. And there's a fly-screen to keep the bugs out.

The kitchen is built along the offside of the vehicle. It's wonderfully compact and stylish too. The units are made of sleek, durable plywood. And the tops are finished in heat-resistant laminate. The hob and sink are constructed of matching vitreous enamel. Underneath the sink, there's ample cupboard space. The doors are thoughtfully designed with touch catches. To complete the kitchen, there's a large Electrolux fridge with shelf capacity for tall bottles.

Add to this hardwearing carpets in wool mix, upholstery in buttoned dralon, curtains in matching regency stripe all the way round, and you've got a very cosy home from home.

Interior colour choice: Golden Dawn or Daybreak Green.

...and the latest MOONRAKER

The Moonraker is the latest version of Britain's best-selling motor caravan. It sleeps four, has comfortable, adaptable seats, a compact kitchen, and bags of storage space. The kitchen is equipped with the familiar RM122 fridge and the cooker has two burners and a grill. The kitchen area can be completely hidden away when not in use leaving clear work surfaces. In short, the Moonraker has everything you need for enjoyable camping.

Interior colour choice: Harvest or Coffee and Cream.
